Alston Moor Golf Links Ready To Open On Wolfe Island

Located on beautiful Wolfe Island, Alston Moor Golf Links is designed as a links course and will meet the RCGA standards for a regulation course when it opens officially in May of 2004. The magnificent views of Wolfe Island's north shore form the setting for Alston Moor, the Kingston region's newest regulation golf course. Owned and operated by the Walton family, the course provides a golfing environment for the whole family.

Keith Walton along with his wife Mildred and daughter Mary-Louise make up the family operated partnership of this business. They have docking facilities available for those who want to come to the island by boat and they plan to run a shuttle to the mainland when the need arises.

On the course is a driving range which has already been operational for the past four years, but the golf course will be ready for games for its first full season come May of this year. Alston Moor will offer a regulation par 35 nine-hole course to its patrons. The course is located at Hwy 96 and 4th Line Rd, just west of Marysville. Come and experience what challenges lie ahead at Alston Moor Golf Links on Wolfe Island.
